NEW YORK IS ...

HISTORIC

Even if the majority
Have no time to enjoy
the wonders of New York;
To see our Lady at the shore
or stand in her arms and look back,
It's nice to have them
at your fingertips.

Even if the minority
is too rich to care
what happens to the rest;
To laugh in the face of those who have hope as their only answer,
You can always find
the few who care.

Even if the individual
is thought to be weak,
powerless, gullible,
He must stand up to these forces,
Bigotry knows no bounds;
There is only color
in the minds of clowns.

It's all here,
So much, so close.
Divert, change,
Find a new path.
It's all here.

-Shannon Cain

MODERN

FRID WINTERS, SCORCHING SUMMERS, HUSTLING PEOPLE, ZOOMING AUTOS, PROSTITUTES, PIMPS, PORNO,
NOT BAD FOR A START.
FAILING BUDGET, WELFARE CHEATS,
SKYROCKETING UNEMPLOYMENT, BURNING STRUCTURE
DRUGS, GAMBLING, CRIME.
THIS IS NEW YORK.
SO WE'VE GOT THE WIDEST CULTURAL CLIENTEL,
SO WE'RE THE BIGGEST CITY IN THE WORLD,
SO WE'VE GOT THE U.N., MISS LIBERTY, TWIN TOWERS.
THEY'RE NOT INTERESTING.
WHO CARES ABOUT MUSEUMS?
NOBODY GOES TO THE THEATRE ANYMORE.
THE SHOPS, THE CLUBS, THE RESTAURANTS ARE JUST TOO BORING TO DISCUSS.
THESE THINGS JUST DON'T RATE.
IT'S DISASTER PEOPLE THRIVE ON.
A LITTLE ACTION TO OBTAIN THE WORLD'S EAR.
NIXON WASN'T BORN IN N.Y., WAS HE?
WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO KING KONG?

CONGESTED

New York: the sights, the sounds, the real action: all the glitter and fantasy of your wildest imagination: a place that never grows weary of its inhabitants. Always changing, always expanding. A place where you can lose yourself in a labyrinth of lights, noise, people, places. Come and be swept off your feet!

-Karen Tavcar

New York is festivals and the tempting aromas of foods from all over the world.
It's a sparkling diamond on Fifth Avenue.
It's a horse and buggy in Central Park.
It's ice skating in Rockefeller Center.
It's the rumble of the subway and the music of the accents of the Native New Yorkers.

YOU KNOW YOU'RE IN

... you never buy anything for the house that's worth stealing.

... the guy in front of you on the unemployment line drives away in a Rolls Royce!

... you're driving through the worst neighborhood in the city with your girlfriend and your car breaks down.

... you make $85 a week, and you think Reggie Jackson is getting a bad deal because he's only making $400,000 a year.

... you don't worry about being proofed mostly because you can't afford to go in!

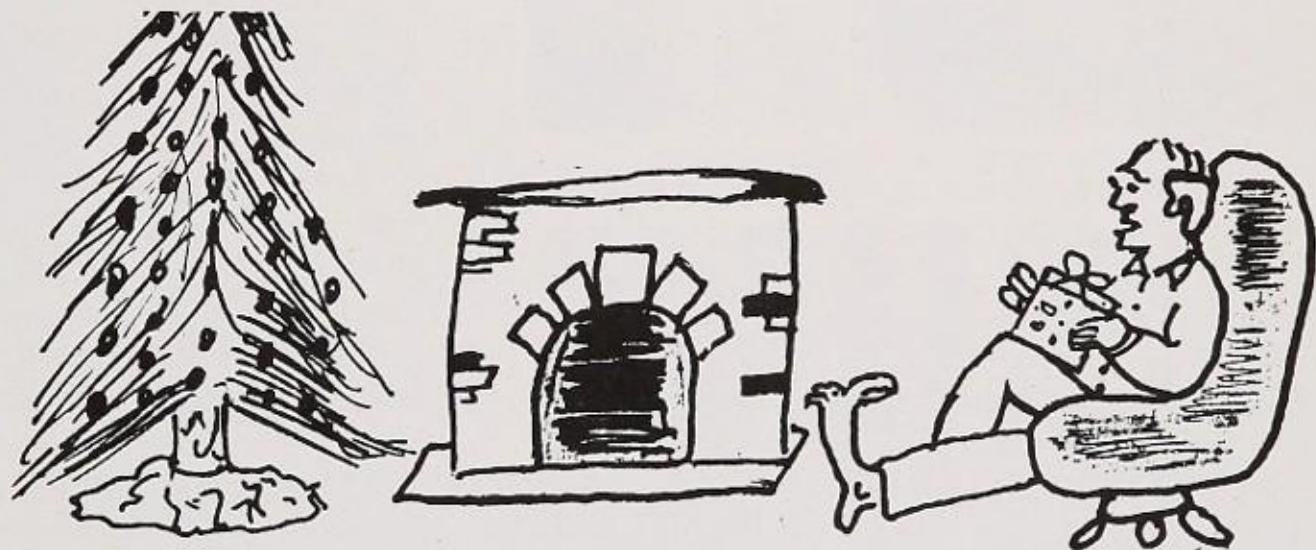

... even the cops are afraid to go out at night!!

NEW YORK WHEN..

... the only one who smiles at you in the subway, is the same guy who drooled on your shoes!

... instead of getting the usual bottle of Scotch at Christmas from your out-of-town friends, you get smoke and fire detectors.

→ ... you get on a train at 3:30 A.M. and notice that all the other passengers are wearing leather and carrying chains!

my senses —
completely in control
well tuned, refined and sweeping like so many beams of radar
    -penetrating sonar
ever searching, ever relaying not a blip on the screen of concern that would arouse suspicion—
rather, a blot
the spreading ink from sewer mains
over all ready somewhat soiled, yellowing, parchment.
    -this city
growing as germ under microscope imbedded on a field of dampened bread
the stagnant parasites
    greening molds
in a sphere of malcontent
brought about by the piercing stench being nurtured, thriving on antipathy unconcerned rot.

what—it just can't be books of history indignantly scream books have covers though,
claiming the people always had a dream running along that common road saying we've never feared the fight as our defenses, all resistance fades from sight.

This is no dream
and the blank faces reflect the mass hysteria
shell shocked confusion
non-committals
this being the only true disease and through our denials
each one of us the carrier

Everyone has a nightmare.
It's the same one.
Filth is everywhere,
Problems surround us.
It's getting worse and worse.
Will it ever change?
The city is a terrible place to live.
Everyone has a dream.
It's the same one.
Opportunity is everywhere,
Life surrounds us.
There's always something to do.
The excitement never stops.
The city is a wonderful place to live.

-Cori Schnitt

City slums, rundown bums,
Streets unfit to ride on.
A crazy man: Son of Sam,
Whom the innocent must hide from.
The Wall Street bustle,
Hookers who hustle,
Making money each their own way.
The unconcerned parent,
Those who can't bear it,
The problems go on day to day.
The difficulties, numerous,
Tho' some find it humorous,
To say, "Well that's N.Y., my dear."
But we'll say it loudly,
And ever so proudly,
If you leave New York, you ain't goin' nowhere!

AWESOME

I grew up riding the subway. It's a part of my life. A good experience is to come to New York and ride a subway train that carries a gift from the kids of the city. The gift is the graffiti – the individual works of art that make the metallic monsters look more human.

-Frank Hernandez

PICTURESQUE

To me, being a New Yorker means being tough. It means being able to live in a town that everyone else so easily condemns. It's watching your house burn because there aren't enough city workers. It's having to protect yourself because too many cops have been laid off. It's sitting in a cold, over-crowded class that you don't really want because your grade advisor said your original choice was cancelled.

Being a New Yorker means having everything at your fingertips. It's knowing that you can go sightseeing in your own backyard. It's having the Empire State Building, The Statue of Liberty, Fifth Avenue or the Rockefeller Center Christmas Tree practically in your own neighborhood. It's knowing that you, too, can reach for the stars.

Being a "real" New Yorker means riding the subway at night. It's walking down the street with your head held high. It means having the guts to say, "I'm glad I'm here and I'm proud of my town!"

Mr. Stoopack, Principal

Mr. Seymour Dinner
Assistant Principal – Administration

Many of us felt the absence this year of Mr. Dinner who was on leave. We had grown accustomed to seeing his smiling face and his easy-going, helpful attitude. We look forward to his return.

ADMINIST

Dear Friends:

Can you change the conditions of your lives in New York or elsewhere? Yes, you can change your life — if you continue your training and education to help you become a "Who" not a "What". Who you are stays with you and those who know you, long after what you do has changed. Who you are, the total of your experiences, background, choices and responses will determine how you move in the world: how you respond to changes: how you approach your problems when you're 30 or 40.

Whatever is out there in the world waiting for you will demand strength, determination, hard work, clear thinking, flexibility. Your education will help you become a person who makes wise choices and decisions. These should not lock you in: they must open you up.

It's a full, terrible, wonderful world out there. We await you eagerly.

Murray Stoopack
for your teachers and family

Mr. Louis Acerra

All of Richmond Hill High School wishes to heartily congratulate Mr. Acerra on his appointment as Principal of John Adams High School. It is difficult for most of us to remember our days at the Annex without thinking, too, of Mr. Acerra. We are glad to have known him and wish him all the best in his new position.

TRATION

Miss Clare Bauch
Assistant Principal – Administration

Graduation is a happy and exciting time but also a time for serious reflection. Your decisions carry with them greater consequences than ever before and the responsibility for them is increasingly your own. My advice is to seek advice. Listen to what parents, teachers, and friends have to offer — accept what you believe will work for you — reject what you must, based upon reason and thought — and do not hesitate to reconsider if you suspect your decision was wrong.

May the future bring you rewards and satisfaction and the good health to savor them.

S. Turetsky

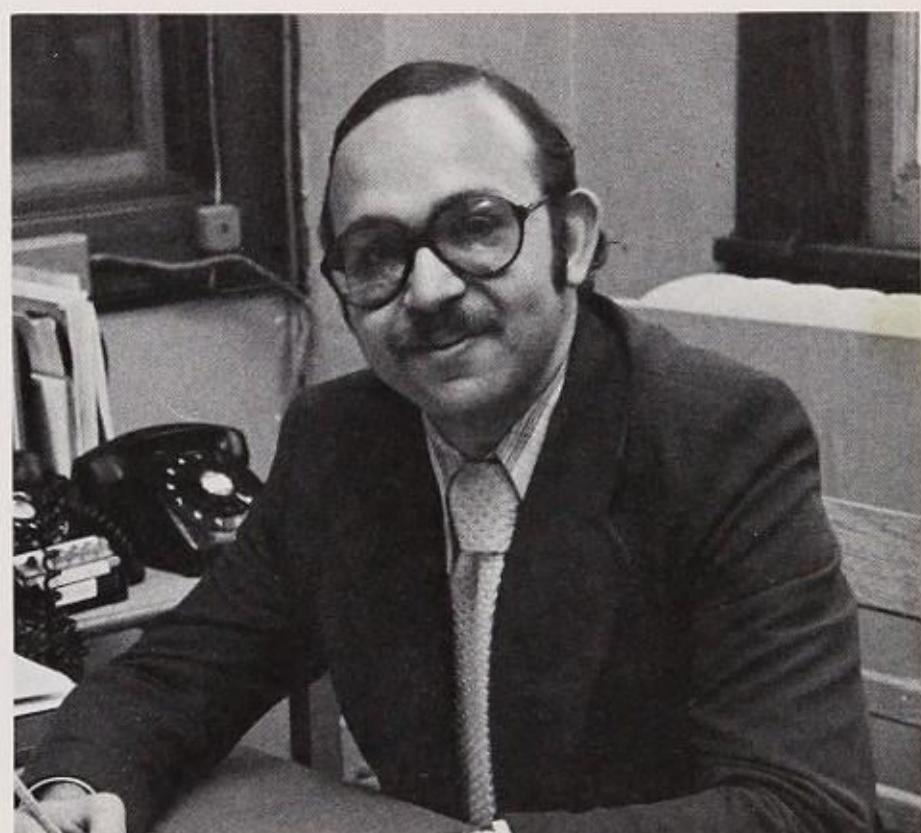

Mr. Joseph Spinola
Assistant Principal – Administration

"What are you doing?" a man asked of three laborers beside a building under construction. The first man replied, "Stone-cuttin'". The second smiled, "Puttin' in time — until a better job comes along."

The third man waited a moment and then said simply, "I'm building a cathedral!" Make the most of your opportunities and your life will be one of achievement and satisfaction which will bring happiness. Aim your sights high and have faith in yourself. Each moment God holds out a chance to be more and achieve more. You have what it takes. Use it wisely!

Much happiness and success!

Clare T. Bauch

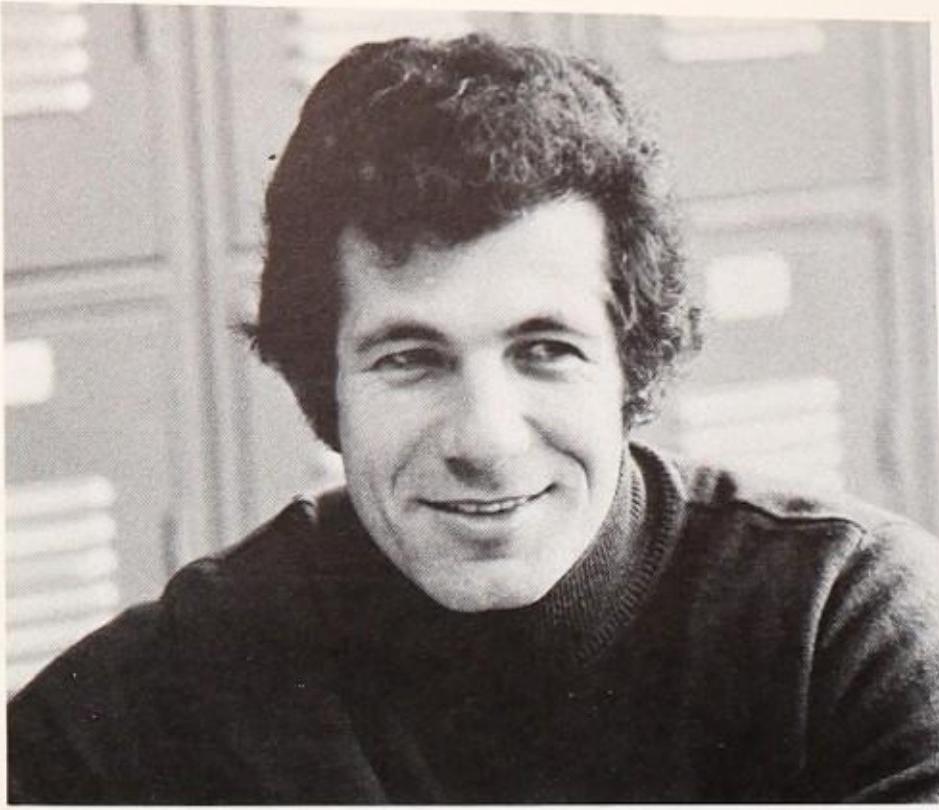

Mr. Stanley Turetsky
Acting Assistant Principal – Administration

It seems like yesterday, September, 1974, when each of you started your high school career at the Annex. Now, four years later, you are leaving us to start another career.

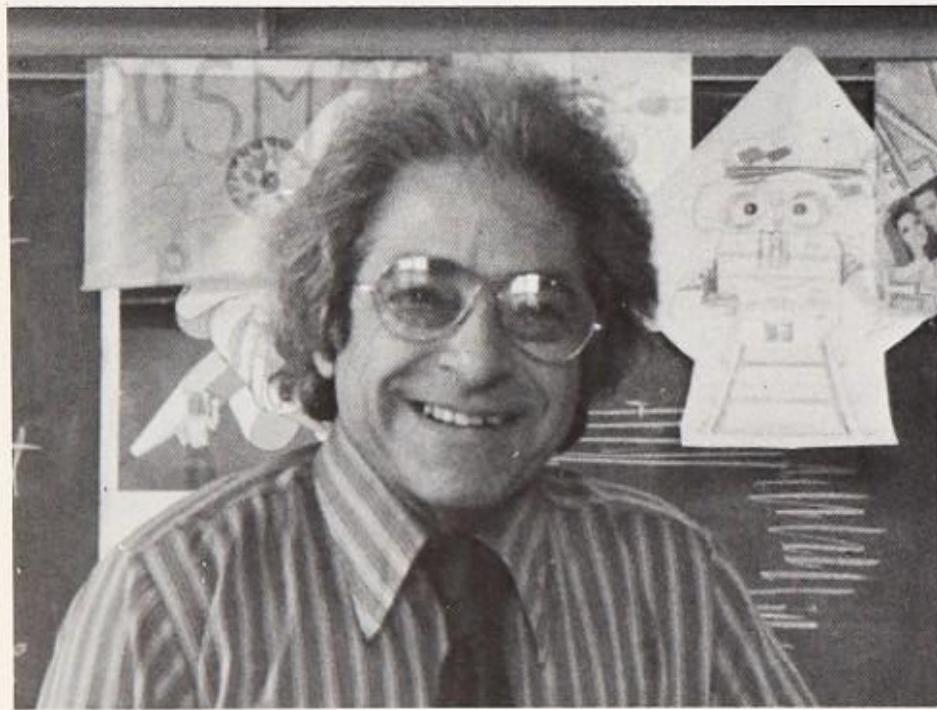

I know that you are wiser and better for having been at Richmond Hill; but we have also benefitted from knowing you. A school is not just a building; it is people, like a family, living together under one roof.

I am sure that the years you have spent at Richmond Hill will be among your fondest memories. Good luck, but not, goodbye.

Tucked away in a quiet spot on the third floor, the Accounting Department helps the school run in many ways. The Department maintains three year courses in Accounting, Bookkeeping and Record Keeping which prepare our students for a wide variety of office positions after graduation or for college programs in related fields. Elective courses are offered in Accounting Machines and Distributive Education as well as Cooperative Education. The Department is also responsible for school finances including Senior Dues and certain S.A. funds and it helps run the S.A. Store. They certainly practice what they teach.

Starting with 20 WPM and being very discouraged when I could not get the dictation, I have certainly come a long way. Sten is now an important part of my life and, also, my future. There are so many exciting jobs available for stenographers and secretaries. Although many machines are being invented which will try to replace the secretary, more and more executives are beginning to realize that a machine can never take the place of a well-trained and competent secretary. I hope all students who are taking secretarial studies get as involved in their work as I have. The benefits and rewards will be with you for the rest of your life.

S. Dinner

Mrs. Shirley Dinner, a member of Richmond Hill's faculty since 1969, is currently on a leave of absence. Over the years, Mrs. Dinner has gained recognition by members of the faculty and the students who have been fortunate to have been in her classes. Mrs. Dinner has taught both Regents and non-Regents classes and introduced and developed the Environmental Science Course. Mrs. Dinner has always been actively involved in extra-curricula activities with science students. Her level of participation is matched by her superior teaching methods. We are anxiously awaiting her return to Richmond Hill.

One advantage to growing up and going to school in New York City is being exposed to and learning about different ethnic groups. Being able to communicate with people who speak another language is both exciting and rewarding. Many students at Hill are bilingual. Our Foreign Language Honor Society consists of dedicated students who are able to express themselves in several languages and who are well-informed of the cultural heritages of the languages they study. In addition, members of the Society tutor other students. They find that their own enthusiasm is often contagious.

EXCERPTS FROM STEPHEN LEACOCK'S
"A, B, AND C – THE HUMAN ELEMENT IN MATHEMATICS"

The student of arithmetic who has mastered the first four rules of his art and successfully striven with money sums and fractions finds himself confronted by an unbroken expanse of questions known as problems. These are short stories of adventure and industry with the end omitted, and though betraying a strong family resemblance, are not without a certain element of romance.

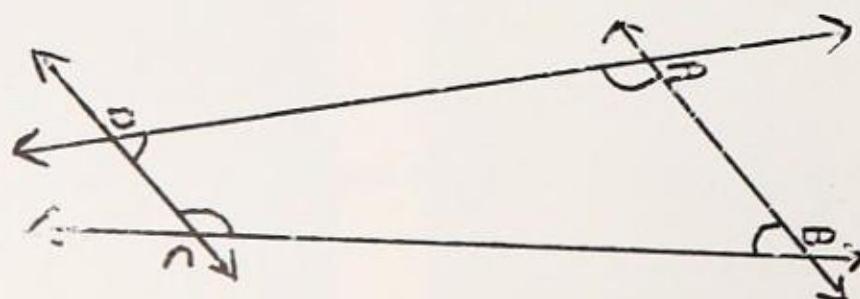

The characters in the plot of a problem are three people called A, B, and C;

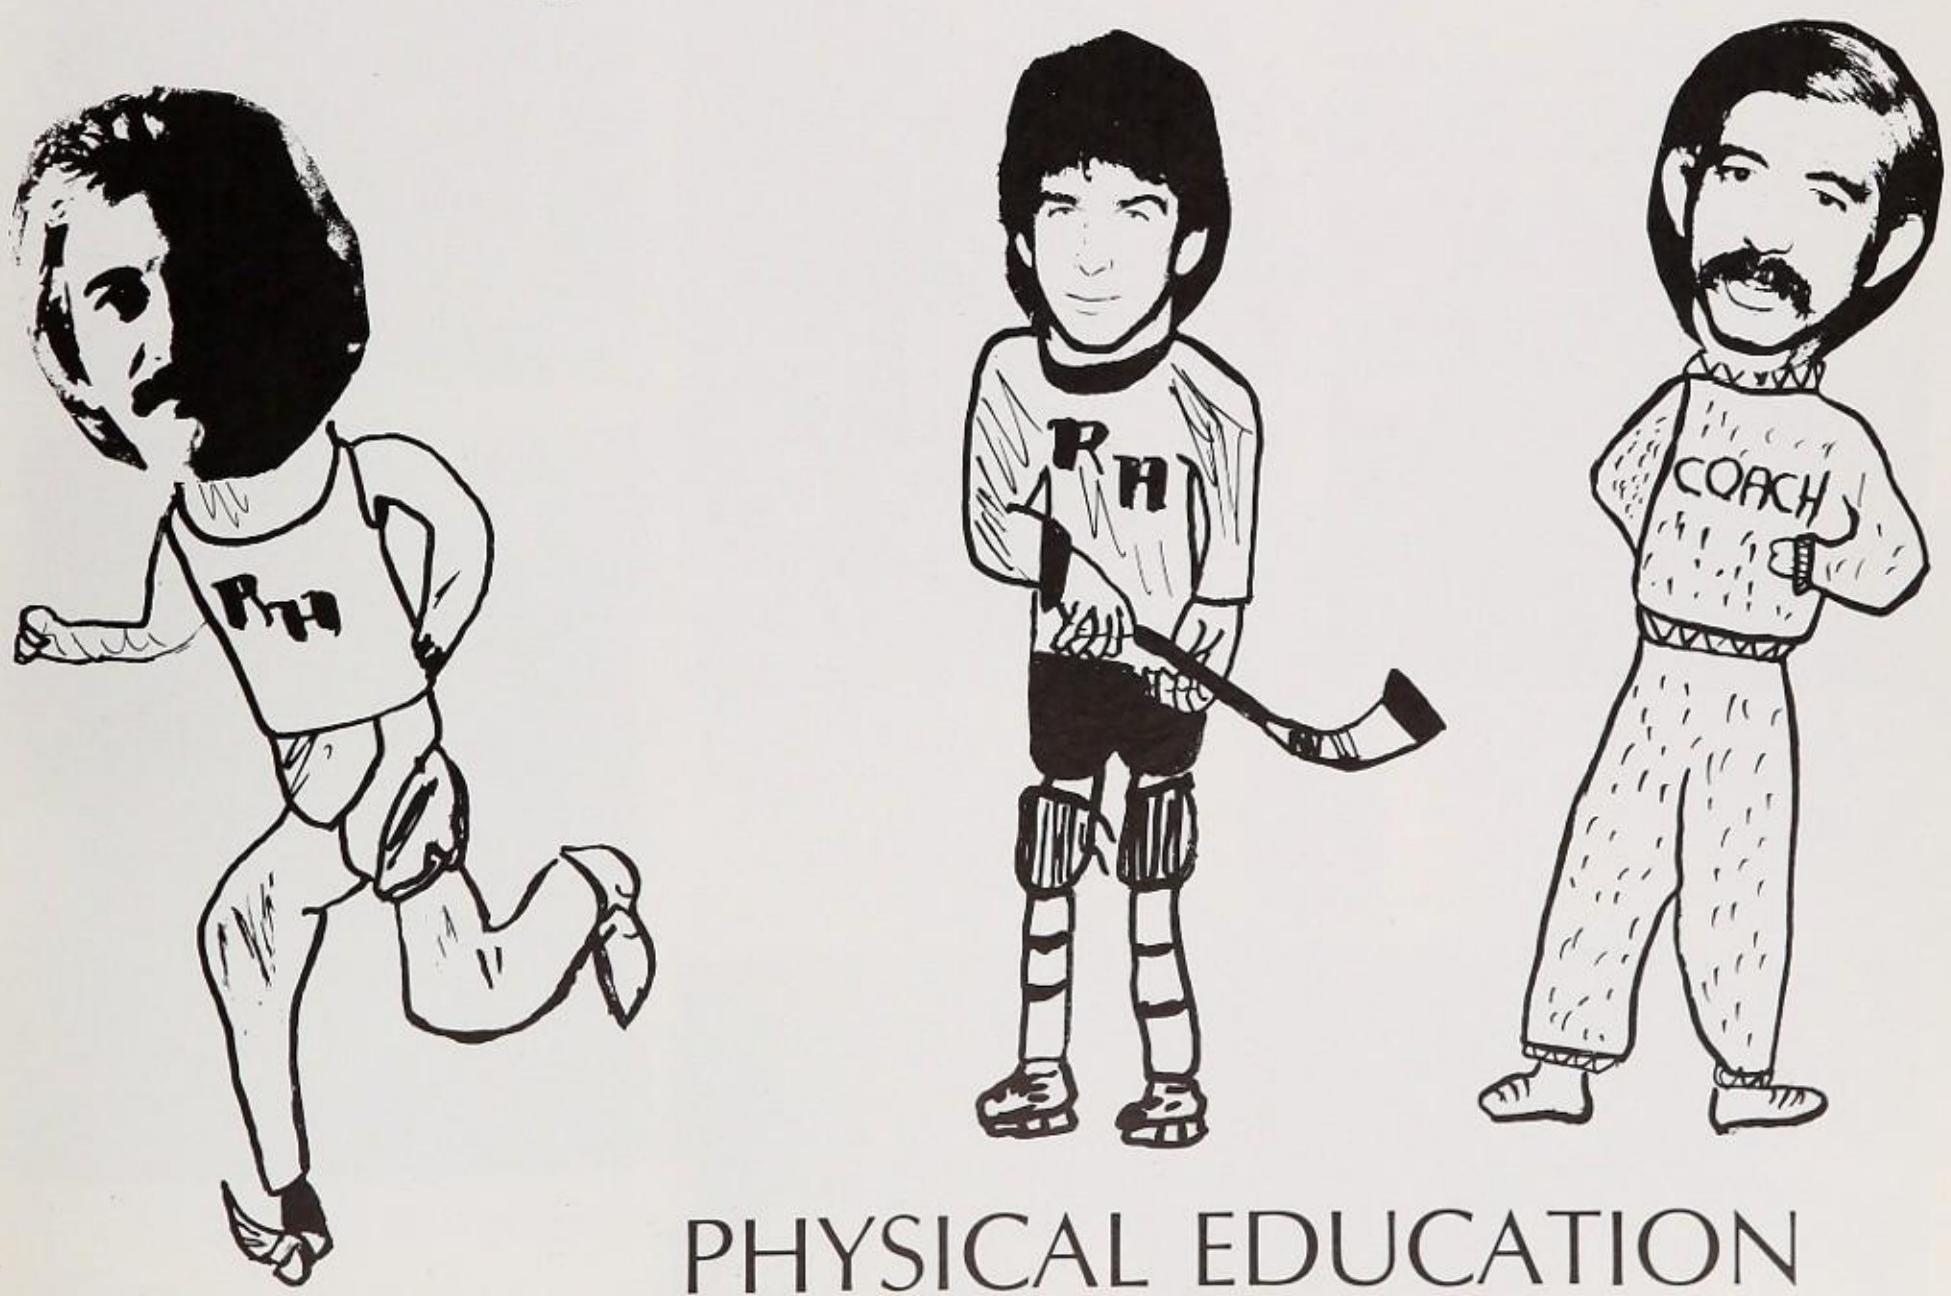

The occupations of A, B, and C are many and varied. In the older arithmetics they contented themselves with doing a "certain piece of work."

Whatever they do they put money on it, being all three sports. A always wins.

STUDENT ASSOCIATION

Just by walking down the hallways of our school, you can see all that the S.A. does for us. The posters that line the walls show an amazing variety of upcoming events. Without the S.A. there would be no teams, no outings, no Sing, no awards, no spirit and no S.A. Store. Imagine life without that daily pretzel or candy bar?

The S.A. and Ms. Oropallo have only recently become synonymous since this is Ms. Oropallo's first year as the S.A. Advisor. Under her direction, there have been many new and exciting innovations. However, we couldn't possibly exclude Mrs. Kapp from this section and we would like to take this opportunity to thank her for making our first three years at Hill memorable and happy ones.

The Humanities Program reaches out in many directions. Now in its third year, the Program encompasses a third of the total school population, but many of the events it sponsors are open to and for the benefit of the whole school.

The Humanities emphasizes individual expansion, awareness and openness to new experiences within school as well as without. It encourages students to explore, to examine, to choose and to make decisions.

Recently our program has received a great deal of publicity including being editorialized in the Daily News. This only goes to prove that good news can be good news.

THE Domino

"Serving Richmond Hill High School since 1923." That has been the motto of the school newspaper — The Domino for fifty five years now and this year was no exception.

Many changes took place in the staff to start the new term. Ms. T. Oropollo left the advisorship after almost five years of service. Her dedicated service and cheerful spirit has left an indelible mark on the paper and on the staff. After an absence of those years, Mr. Robert T. Marsh has returned as faculty advisor. For him it was a sentimental homecoming with reflexions on the many plaques and certificates that the Domino has been awarded for being the very best over so many years.

Former editors of The Domino have been involved with countless college newspapers from Queens College to the papers of Michigan State. Former editors of The Domino have been employed on newspapers and news media throughout the country, from the managing editor of the now defunct Long Island Press, to CBS news radio in San Francisco. These are pleasant memories indeed.

This year's staff of the editor-in-chief, Anne Marie Dezio, Shannon Cain, Sivert Rafter, Robert Kreuter, Barbara Henry and Theresa Kwong has led the paper to another proud year of service to the school community. We are greatly indebted to them.

We really enjoy it

That's a great idea!

THE DOME

The Dome is our school magazine. In the past The Dome staff has produced many interesting and enjoyable works of both art and literature. 1978 will be no different for the Dome with a talented staff of writers and artists. This year's editor-in-chief is Alex Giraldo. Working hard along with the staff is Mrs. Carol Gold, the art advisor and Mr. Hirschenfang, the literary advisor.

Since this is a school magazine, the staff encourages all students to participate in the magazine so it can be a reflection of the entire school. The staff truly works on the magazine so it can be enjoyed by all the students.

Putting together a yearbook is an experience that can only be experienced. It's aggravating, agitating, irritating, exasperating, nervewracking, provoking, troublesome, irksome, fretsome, plaguesome, bothersome, tiresome, wearisome, burdensome, frenzied, furious, frantic, outrageous, insufferable, intolerable, unbearable, and very, very rewarding. The reward is more than just, we hope, a job well done. It's being able to appreciate and enjoy, now, instead of later, all the bits and pieces that are Richmond Hill and the last four years of our lives.

Individual, creative and disappointing are a few interpretations of Richmond Hill High School's T-Shirt Day which was held on Tuesday, the 25th day of October by the staff of Archway '78. In order to stimulate school spirit and participation, the daring Archway Staff, and their fearless leader, Mrs. Greenfield introduced a totally unique contest. Both the students and faculty were to wear their original T-Shirts and they would be photographed by a professional photographer. The most unusual T-Shirts were to be placed in the '78 yearbook. Posters and announcements which included this information were made. T-Shirt Day finally arrived, but not all the T-Shirts. There were participants, but not as many as wished. It may not have been a total success, but the memories of T-Shirt day are treasured in these two pages.

On October 24, 1977, the day before T-Shirt day at Hill, Hal Van Bergen and Steve Witting, with a little help from Paul Gambino, made an announcement over the P. A. with five minutes left to the fourth period. The purpose of this announcement was to promote T-Shirt Day. Apparently, it mainly created havoc and frustration. The announcement was quite silly and teachers were frustrated. Most teachers feel that the last five minutes of the class are the most important because they summarize the whole lesson. Some teachers were literally out to kill the two popular hillites, Steve and Hal. I'm sure Steve and Hal's next announcement, if there is one, will be more appropriately timed.

The Senior Drama Class is designed to allow the student actors the opportunity to expand and grow as actors. The class participates in the Drama Enrichment Program which includes attending live theatre performances as well as theatre lectures by such people as Tennessee Williams and Michael Bennett. Of course, the major activity of the class is the creation of the Spring Play. The students literally create a two and a half hour Broadway musical: learning the lines, songs, dances and designing the scenery. This experience turns out to be an exhilarating and fulfilling one for those students who are willing to give 100% and create it being as fantastic as it can be.

On December 8, 1977, Richmond Hill hosted its annual Student/Faculty Basketball Game. There was much team effort and a great deal of spirit aided by the addition this year of Faculty Cheerleaders. The Faculty Cheerleaders (S. Berkholz, E. Dede, C. Gold, L. Greenfield, R. Kramer, M. Margulis, T. Oropallo and J. Weintraub) remained animated despite the GERITOL and NERVE picket signs.

Both teams were in good form. Faculty top scorers, E. Greenberg (23 pts.), T. Connolly, who suffered an ankle injury (22 pts.), and A. Egenthal (21 pts.), led their team to a 96-94 victory over the Lions despite high scoring by Lions Duane Hughes (13 pts.), Thomas Cinelli (11 pts.), and Ray Galpin (10 pts.).

Highlights of the game included the fabulous Richmond Hill Cheerleaders and the dedicated, though disorganized, Faculty Cheerleaders who managed to score a one point foul shot during a one minute relief play.

All in all, this year's game was filled with suspense, excitement and a great deal of comedy.

One memory of Richmond Hill High School will always be serving as the timer for the Girl's Basketball Team. In the beginning, it was rather boring. Soon, we started going to other schools, meeting other people and suddenly, it wasn't so boring. That's when I began to notice that the team wasn't just a bunch of girls, but sort of like a family — a close family. I had never experienced anything like this before. The team wasn't quite successful in achieving a good standing in basketball, but they were successful in learning to work together as in unity.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Although I participated in a lot of activities at Hill, the most fun was cheerleading. We all put in hours and hours of rehearsal and, at first, the results were terrible. We looked bad, we sang bad and most of the time, did everything all wrong! The best thing about us was our uniforms. Eventually, we got it together and even though we only cheered at two winning games, I enjoyed every minute of it!

Dear Volleyball Ladies,

This year you had an especially difficult job because, for most of you, it was the first time you had ever played together on the team. As a result of a great deal of hard work, you overcame this obstacle and developed into a fine team whose spirit and enthusiasm were apparent in both victory and defeat.

I realize that the fruits of your labor were not evident in the final standings; however, that sometimes happens to the best of teams.

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank you for putting in so many hours, for trying so hard, and for giving me so many pleasant moments.

With fondest wishes,

The Fencer

Man of Honor; Man of Skill.
Mask on your face,
Foil in your hand.
You are ready for combat;
ready for the duel.
You see before you your opponent
Through the wire of your mask.
He moves forward, thrusting his arms.
You move swiftly, avoiding the blow.
Your thoughts drift into the past.
Your thoughts fade to those of the Merry Old England of
the sixteenth century;
Thoughts of duels of honor,
Thoughts of duels for a maiden.

A swishing sound fills the air as the cans are opened. The teams take their positions, a coin is tossed and the battle begins. The two men, one crouched, one standing erect, stare seemingly into space and grip their weapons ever tighter. A smooth toss of the ball and a smart snap of the wrist and suddenly the ball is sent blurringly hurtling through space, across the DMZ. Poised on the balls of his feet, his weapon cocked, the projectile is fired back. Back and forth, back and forth, ad infinitum. So goes the battle.

WRESTLING

Clive Ormsby — getting a grip on things.

Wrestling is the epitome of individual competition. This unique sport, mentally and physically demanding, is not for the many. Wrestlers compete with their hearts, their minds and their bodies. These, the three basic elements of individual competition, must be developed into a perfect harmony since there are no extraneous devices or gimmicks in this sport. The essence of wrestling lies in hard work and respect: hardwork in striving to reach your highest potential and respect for yourself and your fellow competitors.

The following athletes, under the direction of Coach Tom Connolly, have accepted this challenge. They are wrestlers Ken Brown, John Chim, Kevin Coen, Mike Culkin, Robert D'Avila, Tony Diaz, Ken Fleming, Nip Gulianni, Billy Haggerty, John Hill, Robert Liquerman, Frank Maple, Tom Mullings, Peter Nichik, Mike Oliva, Clive Ormsby, Robert Ramos, Louis Rodriguez, Jimmy Schaeffer, Danny Tarney.

A teacher – Children may grimace and frown at the very thought. Adults might think of the past, but no one thinks of a teacher as anything special.

We are all born teachers. We all have a talent we can teach. But there are the blessed few that actually do teach. Their rewards are headaches and laryngitis; flu caught from their students and broken eardrums.

You may ask why they do it. Many say that they really don't know why. Perhaps, for some, the reward lies in the knowledge that they are educating the future population from which a select few that they have taught will, in turn, teach the next generation and so on.

The one thing that I will always remember about Richmond Hill is its friendliness.

I remember walking into the Annex on my very first day and seeing a big sign reading,

"Welcome Class of 1978."

From the outside, the view isn't very impressive, but once you walk inside, the warmth of the people really makes you feel wanted.

Once the realization is accepted that even between the closest human beings
infinite distances
continue to exist,
a wonderful living
side by side
can grow up,
if they succeed
in loving the distance between them
which makes it possible for each to see the other
whole against the sky.

We left Richmond Hill at 6:00 A.M. on December 7, 1977 and returned at 11:00 P.M. that night. Although we spent nearly five hours travelling to and from Washington, D.C., we managed, by going at a frantic pace, to take in many of the principal sights and highlights of this historic city.

Since I had never been to Washington, D.C. before, this trip was a fascinating and unique experience for me and for many others. I'm glad I go to a school that is willing to give the time and effort necessary to provide opportunities such as this one.

He bought me and 499 of my friends in the Fall of 1974 at a stationary store in the neighborhood. He has used them all since then and I alone remain to tell this story.

We've gone through a lot together in the past four years. We've been everything from English compositions (like this one), math problems, bio homework to paper airplanes, doodle pages, secret messages and spit balls. But the package is empty now and when I am handed in, it will signify the end of an era: the end of four busy years of high school and the beginning of a new package of paper.

High School
the long hours
have turned into years.

High School
the minutes that passed
are now days.

Now as I leave
The protection from reality,
I face a world
Of work and struggle.

I must plan my future
(if the path is mine to choose)
Not looking back at the past
But toward future adventures

High School
it seemed so long and yet
it's so soon gone.

TERMINATION

an equestrian event, the horse blindly bolting forth thru instinct
over obstacles seemingly growing, forever looming, rocking both battered mind and tired body with but a moment's rest found in running before the next barrier — stiffened fence or too high bushes —
folds down the flying mind, his whole essence, transforming, redesigning — wild beast
to honed machine
harnessed by the forbidding rider for what the senses feel forever
with rider catching all earned glories, hardened heels caving in stout ribs.

this instant the mind may not run free for the rider holds the reins.
if only freedom were granted sooner — one more fence before it's over — then tastes of leather could be diluted by drinking rain gathered overhead wrapped in omniscient cloud formations passing slow as if in dream
over green valleys stretched before me now knowing the sweat was not in vain nor the bleak loneliness and pain for i've shaped my own beginning.
this birth begins with termination.

— WAYNE COSTIGAN

MEMORIES plus

I knew I'd get the lead again!

She's always stealing my lines!

Who are you calling shorty?

Only Ten More Days Till . . .

Life at Hill has come to revolve around Sing and it has become a sort of calendar. December is the first meeting; January means script deadlines; February is the month for arguments and March becomes "ten more days," "nine more days" . . . The final week is a paradox of forty-eight hour days that vanish in a blur of unfinished everything.

— Suzanne Danet
— AnnMarie Deizio

Freshmen: Before the Reign of Witting

Are you sure you've got it now?

"To be or not to be . . ."

Slowly I turned — step by step . . .

EXPERIENCE

Experience Doesn't Always Count

Over the years we have acquired experience, confidence, sensitivity and loyalty. Yet, some things never change. While talk of the new script begins on closing night, the script still isn't ready until just before deadline. Obviously, organization isn't our forte. Alma Maters written the week before and wet paint on the backdrop on opening night are more our style.

— S.D. & A.M.D.

I think I hurt myself!!!

I've seen better heads on beer!

PROBLEMS

O B S T A C L E S

I'll drink to that!

The King of Sing

Our memories of Sing would be incomplete without specially mentioning Steve Witting. A creative force at work, his talents added a sense of professionalism and his refusal to cooperate with the laws of gravity added numerous mishaps to our numerous mishaps. Many of his ideas were ahead of their time; many were downright impossible! Who can forget the dummy that was never wired from Soph Sing; the light scene from "All Together Now", Alvin on roller skates and flipping flats that kept falling during scene changes?

— S.D. & AM.D.

PLUS

DELAYS

Proverbs

It seems as if obstacles showed up more times than the chorus. There were snow storms, parttime job priorities, music to be transposed, hangovers, apathy and lost props. Despite all the problems, the old adage, "The show must go on," prevailed.

— S.D. & AM.D.

Alvin, Alvin – Where's Alvin?

After running through the script untold times without ever seeing or hearing from Alvin (Hal Van Bergan), the cast was becoming anxious. Mr. Graziano played Alvin's part in rehearsal, but he refused to roller skate down the aisle. Hal appeared finally, freeing Mr. Graziano to play the part of Mac Mc Mopee for Steve Witting who was lost on a train somewhere with Mr. Fleisig.

— S.D. & AM.D.

LAUGHS plus

Winning's nice, but . . .

Sing '77 was the beginning of a meaningful experience for me. It taught me that while winning is fantastic, if you've done the best you can then you've won within yourself. It showed me that people with different ideas and talents can work in unison and have a great time doing so.

— Elyse Daleo

ACHES,

PAINS,

SPRAINS

Together Again

Sing '77 brought us together for the first time and this year, it seems, the expression of that time has grown with the people. Soph Sing is a moment that went by too fast; Junior Sing is an extension of that moment.

— Elyse Daleo

and WORK,

A Glutton for Punishment

Freshman Sing '77 was a lot of fun even though I fell off the stage. I broke my wrist, chipped a tooth and had a chin the color of the rainbow. I came back to school after they put the cast on. Everyone thought I was crazy, but it meant so much to me. This year I'm the director for Soph Sing, but I haven't learned my lesson yet. I also roller skate and play the guitar.

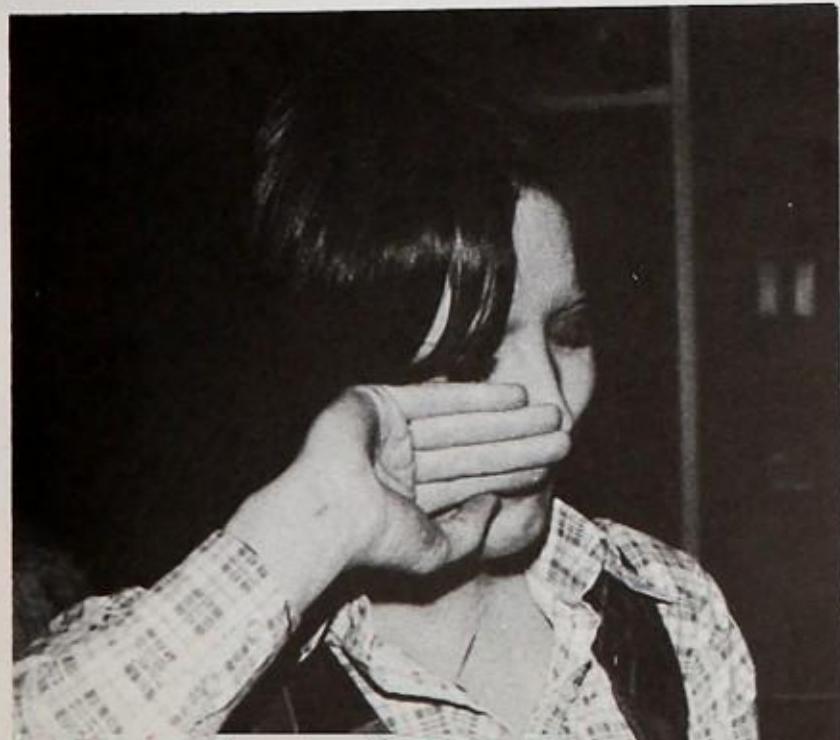

— Anna Capasso

Sing Can Be Hazardous To Your Health

Sing is composed of a group of very special people. They are willing to endure hard work, laryngitis, heart burn, and no sleep. Through it all, each class manages to put it all together somehow. For me, these memories are very special.

— Barbara Grady

WORK,

There's Always Next Year

There comes a point when the experience surmounts the need to win. This is especially true when you lose. Ah well, there's always next year. We do have our memories and they are priceless.

— S.D. & A.M.D.

WORK

Pandemonium's Passé

We always managed to meet the deadline. Opening Night Scene: loud complaints about crummy make-up; nervous actors pace; exchanges of well-wishes; location of missing props; excitement and anticipation; the worst of enemies united in an effort to put on the best possible show. Spirit and comradery overtakes the pandemonium.

AND HERE NOW . . . THE NEWS.

YOU'LL BE DEAD BY THE END OF THE MONTH

FEBRUARY - BABY!

COME ON BEETLEBAUM!

WE WON! WE WON!

a-one, a-two, a-three . . .

WHERE ARE THEY?

NICE WATCH YOU GOT THERE!

WE HAVE ENOUGH UNEMPLOYMENT ALREADY?

SIDDOWN AND SHUTTUP!

I LOOK NICE, DON'T I!

YOU'RE GOING TO MAIL THE BODIES TO TAHITI!!

THE SECRETARY OF STATE DID WHAT!

THIS ... ABOUT THAT ...

GO ... GOOOO!

IT'S THE BEST BUSINESS WE KNOW!

Though often unnoticed, the musicians are the unsung heroes of Sing. Without them Sing would be impossible. We especially thank our musicians: Larry Glatt, Mike Pascullo, Matthew Shebes, Joy Berman and Angela Ianncone

IT'S TIME TO TAKE OUR PLACE.

HOLD MA FRIED CHICKEN FOR ME.

I HAVE TO DO THAT PART AGAIN!

LOVE YOU – YOU CUTE LITTLE KNUCKLEHEAD!

AND NOT BE AN EMPTY – WHAT?

THEY CONFESSED! JUSTICE TRIUMPHS!

Mom & Dad – I needed ya then; I need ya now. Thanks for your help. I love ya! Denise

Mom & Dad — Thanks for all your help and security. God bless you. Love Maryann

Mom & Dad — Thanks for everything. You're the best. Cori

Mom — Thanks for everything. Love always, Patricia

Mom — Thanks for everything. Love you — Carol

Mr. D'Agostino takes the pipe — Ferpo

Mr. D'Agostino — Thanks so much for all you've done for me and for listening to all my problems. I'm really going to miss you. Love, Irene

Mr. Egenthal — Thanks for listening to my problems — Cori

Mr. "E" — My hands are cold but my heart is warm — Love ya, Gina

Mr. Pam — Are you really gonna sell that pretzel?

Mr. Pam — Sure, 15¢

Mr. Stockfeder — Remember Bobby Tracy's maroon underwear? Rose and Doreen

Mr. Stoopack — Thanks for letting me graduate early. Cori

Mr. Warren Weinstien — Thanks for all your help. Alicia

Mr. Warren Weinstien — You're a great person. Thanks for talking to Rosetta and me during study. Margaret

Mrs. Beacon — May God walk by your side always. Love, Alicia

Mrs. Bresciano — It was a pleasure to share a first name with someone as nice as you. Love, Margaret Adamczak

Mrs. Bresciano — Why don't you give Burkholz some cooking lessons — she sure could use them. MA & AC

Mrs. Bresciano — Did you bring your horse to school today. Adelaide

Ms. Burkholz — Sasquatch's feet are no comparison to yours. Margaret

Ms. Burkholz — Did you get your driver's license from Sears and Roebuck? Addie

Ms. Burkholz — You have a lifelong guarantee of free legal advice (I don't do divorces).

Ms. Burkholz — Thanks for all your caring and understanding. Warmly, Adelaide

Mrs. Kramer — I truly appreciate all that you've done for me. Thank you for being a part of the most important years of my life. Love always, Adelaide

Mrs. Kramer — Thank you for helping my granddaughter understand the most important thing about life — dying.

Ms. Greenfield — Thanks for all the time and help you've put in to make our yearbook possible. Love, Irene and Margaret

Ms. Greenfield — You're one of the 3 loyal ARCHWAY members that we wrote of in the composition on the wall. Love, Margaret and Irene

Ms. Lettieri — After the prickly-heat telathon, let's go to the lips telathon. Margaret

Ms. Lettieri — Bohacks is having a sale on monkey lips in butter sauce. Addie

Ms. Lettieri — I think Margaret could use a week's rest at Bellvue. Addie

Ms. Lettieri — Is the prickly-heat telathon going to have Tyler Mary Moore as a guest? If so, we're not going. MA & AC

Ms. Lettieri — Good luck next year with an entirely new basketball squad. They'll probably be more controllable than the rotten left-overs which you will reject from last season. Margaret

Ms. Lettieri — I'm inviting you to my house for dinner. I'm serving boneless chicken with frozen monkey lips.

Ms. Lettieri — Is your grandma still getting those discounts or is she tied up at the moment. MA & AC

Ms. Lettieri — Is that real ice on the street? MA

Ms. Lettieri — Thanks for giving me your time and advice when I needed it most. If I ever need to talk to someone, you're on the top of the list. Margaret

My friends — Thanks for putting up with me.

To all my friends in Richmond Hill: This one's for you!
Love, Denise
To all my friends: We are together in our hearts, but necessarily always, in all our activities! In friendship, Margaret
To Addie and Burkholz – We often hurt those closest to us mostly because we are angry with ourselves and scream at someone who understands. Margaret
To Diann – Nothing like starting a conversation with a blackboard in American Studies!
To all the guys who propositioned me – Eat your hearts out. Joann
To Barri – You make me so happy.
To all the heads – Congratulations. E.J.H.
To Amy – Remember I'll always be there to talk to. Denise
To Chuckie – Sorry I had a headache on 12/14/77. Jo-baby
To dear friend – Thanks for helping me graduate. Love, your best friend, K.B.
To Denise, Amy, Al, Donna – Good luck. Kerri
To the guys on the corner – How small is your Johnson? 2?
To everyone I drove home.
To ex-superstar – Too bad you weren't big enough to come to a meeting which would have helped your character. What am I talking about? You have no character!
To future Girls' basketball, softball and track teams. Good luck. BC To Hernandez & Wizewski families – My love for all of you will never be hindered by distance. February 26 was proof enough of this. Love, Margaret To Jerry – Someday we'll get there. Love, Joann

Let the Army Help you with College.

Thousands of you people did.

In fact, last year there were over 200,000 enrollments in college courses by people in the Army. They attended classes on post. They studied at nearby colleges and universities. And the Army paid for up to 75% of their tuition and fees.

Our educational benefits are in addition to the training you'll receive, and the travel opportunities you'll have.

If you'd like to find out more about all the educational benefits the Army has to offer, call your local Army Representative.

THE BLIZZARD OF '78

It's all over now,
The extended vacations,
The loafing and laughing at
Those who represent authority.
Come to think of it,
It WAS kinda fun
To live in a vacuum.
Too bad
I'm only realizing it now.
I may look back
and regret the things
I should have done or
the times I should have had.
If I only knew better.
It was certainly not a waste
Just a part of youth.
School supplies the happy memories of everyone over 35
who wishes he could
Relive it, make it better.
There was just too much
Growing up to do, that Richmond Hill is Already a Blur.
